

ACADEMIC SUSPENSION POLICY

New freshmen and transfer students are subject to academic suspension if their first semester grade point average falls below the range for academic probation. Suspended students may not re-enroll for the next academic session without permission from the Committee on Rematriculation. Permission to re-enroll for the next session should be requested through the Academic Assistance Program. A written appeal and a personal interview are required.

Approved by the Senate: 8/30/83